Subject: Coober Pedy Giant Shell OFFER 2 Jun 2010

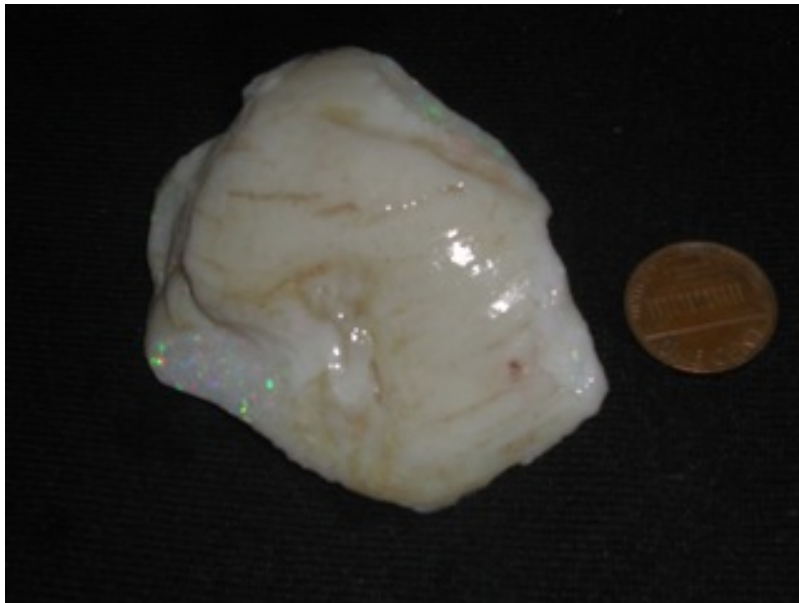

Hi folk

This is a most unusual piece of opal, it is an entire shell weighing 1.95oz or 312cts, is 64mm x 50mm and approximately 25mm thick for only $2,400.

You can't see a lot from the pictures . This opal is skin to skin with light greens. It will make a wonderful collector's piece and you could have a lot of fun just cleaning it up. It is most spectacular piece a nature's gem. I am told by a geologist that this stone is approximately 105 million years old, now I can't guarantee it because I wasn't there. If you want something very very different then this is for you. I have only ever seen a couple of other shells as large as this in all my opal life, I was on the fields when I was 19 and I am 68 so you work it out.

Kind regards

Murray Willis
