Hi Folk

These Lambina Verticals #1-5 are magnificent. In a number of stones and the best example is #5, you'll see the opal runs through in very straight lines. The opal actually faces better on the side than it does across the broad face however once you polish the face you will have a unique opal with different colours running in straight lines, like tram lines, through the stone. These stones will be absolutely unique. Sure there are some other parcels of verticals from Lambina but these are brilliant, easy to cut and very high yielding.

#3 appears to have opal completely over the face but it will appear in straight almost parallel lines.

These stones are inexpensive for what they are and I would urge you to have one in your collection. They would make beautiful pendants or you could cut between the lines and make wonderful pairs of earrings, I can't really think of opals that would be better for earrings particularly #5. They could be big long drop earrings because the stone measures approximately 30mm x 30mm. It would be a pity to cut such a pendant but you wouldn't lose anything much by cutting perfectly matching earrings.

I look forward to hearing from you.
