Subject: Lightning Ridge Black Opal OFFER 7 Apr 2011

Today we have one of the most interesting and value for money offers that we have had in years. One of my mates from Lightning Ridge has secured these stones for Australian Opal Mines and we can pass them on to you probably for less than you would pay for them on the field. You wont be aware of it but in years gone by your dollar was very strong compared with the Australian dollar. Last night our dollar bought $1.045 for $1US that is the Australian dollar has become stronger than the US dollar. However Australian Opal Mines has not changed its pricing and you are buying today what your dollar would buy you 5 years ago so today you can buy yourself a bargain at your old dollar prices. Your eyes will tell you which of the Lightning Ridge "Rubs" that you like but I want to bring to your attention 5 stones in particular.

The first of course is the gem black with reds 4.64cts for only $325 this is a brilliant piece.

There are some wonderful blacks with blues and greens no exception is the $265 stone 10.65cts, it will cut a beautiful rectangular stone approximately 15mm x 12mm. You could drill a hole in it and wear it as a pendant or you could cut it across where that sand is and make a beautiful ring. Rectangular being very popular by males.

IMG_7505-6 the crystal is a beautiful piece, it may even be a shell and at just over $10/ct is unbelievable value.

It's been very hard to photograph IMG_7528, there is one corner that's absolutely super gem but as you roll the stone around and look into it it is a super piece. As I dictate this email Heather my PA said "is that the jet black one? I really like that especially when you look into it". 26.7cts for only $400 will never be repeated.

The one that I really like is the Lightning Ridge gem black crystal, brilliant 11.95cts for only $395. Because it is so crystal you can see the sand in the back of the stone. Of course if you couldn't you'd be looking at a $2,500 piece. The sand brings this stone within the price range of most of you but if you look at the sand you can see different things from different angles. I see a dog one way, I see a man running from another angle. No doubt you'll see different things also. I can highly recommend this "harlequin type flash" of blue green some gold.

We have more stones but we haven't had time to price them or take pictures but in my opinion these are the best. If you would like some matching pairs for earrings let us know because I am sure there are some in what is left?

We look forward to hearing from you. We will brace ourselves so we are not knocked over in the rush.

I can highly recommend all of the stones below to you.

Regards

Murray
