Hi everyone

Last week "Murray's Birthday Special Offer" item #1 was of an Andamooka Painted Lady stone for only $38 - five people wanted it, of course only the first in could have it. Since our offer we have sold a number of other stones of even better quality to the people who missed out on the $38 stone.

It has caused me to look around, I found another dozen or so of varying qualities and sizes; for instance there is one double sided with light greens 46oz for only $45, when that's polished up it'll look great.

There is another 47oz with potch and some nice greens across the face for only $42.

See below for pictures of more Painted Ladies. We offer them as a supplementary offer to my Birthday Special.

Artists in Australia use these very large stones as backgrounds for art. They use the beautiful blues and greens as the sky or they use the reds for a river. People can really use their artistic talents to make picture stones, they can paint scenes and be rock painters. Imagine seas, skies and landscapes for as little as $45, buy a huge piece of Australian rock with opal on the front to make a wonderful canvas.

There is one here 16oz for only $20 with blues which would make a beautiful sky. There are some browns and colours in the rock that can also be used, it doesn't have to have paint all over it.

Anyway we will leave that to you, you artistic people. Don't be disappointed if the one you want goes quickly because last time we were knocked over in the rush, that's why we are doing a Painted Lady Offer this time.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Regards

Murray
